

Instrumental Journey

2/4

Gonna take an instrumental journey ....

I've always felt my inner Celt,
When i hear the haunting skirl.
One day i thought i really ought
To give the bagpipes a whirl.

This is it; i'm not gonna quit.
The pipes will take me far.
I'll have a lot of fun, and when i'm done,
Music will have made me a star.

To make things ring, guitar is king,
For a singer born and bred.
So it's easy to see, acoustic for me,
For the folk songs in my head.

This is it; i'm not gonna quit.
My axe will take me far.
I'll have a lot of fun, and when i'm done,
Music will have made me a star.

Spontaneity would set me free.
This fact soon 'came clear
So i worked to invent an instrument
More easily played by ear.

This is it; i'm not gonna quit.
The chimera will take me far.
I'll have a lot of fun, and when i'm done,
Music will have made me a star.

Although sub-par, i play bass guitar,
For “not the best band you’ll ever meet”.
But when we play on a given day,
I mostly keep the beat.

This is it; i’m not gonna quit.
The bass will take me far.
I’ll have a lot of fun, and when i’m done,
Music will have made me a star.

Since portability is important to me,
A concertina did appeal.
Although quite dear, i can play it by ear,
And that has a very nice feel.

This is it; i’m not gonna quit.
The squeezebox will take me far.
I’ll have a lot of fun, and when i’m done,
Music will have made me a star.

The banjo’s twang is a curious thang;
Adding interest to the mix.
But, to save the strain on my agéd brain,
My string count will stay at six.

This is it; i’m not gonna quit.
I’m playing the banjitar.
I’ll have a lot of fun, and when i’m done,
Music will have made me a star.

I’ve heard a call for something small –
An harmonica it will be.
But til i can play, out of sight it’ll stay
On that we can all agree.

This is it; i’m not gonna quit.
The harp will take me far.
I’ll have a lot of fun, and when i’m done,
Music will have made me a star.
